PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

I wish to thank David Salkeld on YACCA's behalf for his dedicated work as admin officer. He has resigned from that role because of full time employment.

Craig Simpson has now been appointed to the position after advertising and interviews by executive. Craig recently left the RAAF and is establishing an organic garden on the land behind the Aged Care Centre. He has exciting ideas for the area, and has already shown enthusiasm for YACCA activities.

A YACCA subcommittee has been formed to coordinate a national DIVE EXPO in our district late in 2004. Excellent research has been carried out by Bob Ramsay and at our first committee meeting ideas came thick and fast. I urge others who have ideas or wish to become involved in the project to contact me.

In conclusion I thank all members for their support over the past year and especially the executive team.

I anticipate an interesting and productive new year for the district and trust that YACCA's efforts will enhance that process.

I look forward to seeing you at the Christmas dinner at the beautifully extended Normanville Hotel.

Season's greetings.

Phil Palmer

MEMBER PROFILE

While YACCA member, Paul Mahoney has been much further afield, he has no regrets about settling in this district.

Born in Victor Harbor, he left school at 16 for an apprenticeship at Regal Display, Edwardstown. "Not the biggest design company but the nicest," he says.

The state's top design apprentice three years in a row, Paul won the accolade as Top Apprentice of all trades in his final year.

Stork Signs was his first business, established in Victor Harbor in 1980 and sold in 1996 when he headed to Port Douglas in northern Queensland. There he ran another successful sign writing business for 7 years.

Married to Cathryn, a Yankalilla girl, they brought their three children back to this area in 2002. The family consider it a great move.

You'll find examples of his current work on the Normanville Booking Office, the Marina Takeaway and Deli, Normanville Hotel and Sunset Cove. Still remaining from his Stork days are the signs at the Mitre 10 complex and Normanville shopping centre.
